7 Factual Summary

8 11. Mr. K¹ was referred to Respondent who was working as an independent contractor
9 performing acupuncture at a physical therapy clinic. Respondent treated both Mr. K and his wife,
10 patient Mrs. K, who was suffering twitching of her right eye, at their home on seven occasions.
11 On March 29, 2012, after the seven previous treatments did not correct Mrs. K's problem,
12 Respondent inserted a needle under the Mrs. K's right eye and left it there for 30 minutes.
13 During the 30 minute treatment Mrs. K complained her eye felt heavy, that something seemed to 14 be wrong, but Respondent said the needle was appropriately placed, and instructed Mrs. K to 15 keep her eyes closed for the 30 minute treatment. At the end of the treatment Respondent
16 removed the needle and Mrs. K complained of discomfort and vision problems. Respondent said
17 there was no damage to the eye because Respondent did not see any signs of bleeding in Mrs. K's
18 eye. Respondent said any problem should resolve on its own in a short time.

19 12. On March 30, 2012, Mrs. K called Respondent and told her something was wrong with 20 the eye Respondent treated the night before. Mrs. K told Respondent she was going to an eye
21 doctor. Later that day Mrs. K saw a retinal specialist, who determined that the acupuncture
22 needle had perforated Mrs. K's eye, which caused hemorrhaging and permanent loss of Mrs. K's
23 right peripheral vision.

24 13. Respondent failed to keep records for any of Mrs. K's treatments. On April 1, 2012,
25 Respondent called Mr. K and told him that she had filled out an application for malpractice

26
27 ¹ The name of the patient and certain other witnesses are abbreviated to protect their privacy rights. The 28 names will be provided to Respondent upon written request for discovery.

1 insurance and purchased a malpractice insurance policy in order to cover the injury to Mrs. K.
2 Respondent asked Mr. K to change the date of Mrs. K's treatment and injury to April 2, 2012, so
3 the injury to Mrs. K's eye would be covered under the insurance policy. Mr. K told Respondent
4 that if he did what she requested and changed Mrs. K's eye treatment and injury date, it would
5 make him an accomplice to insurance fraud, and refused to change the treatment date. Mr. K was 6 unable thereafter to contact Respondent.

7 14. Mr. K filed a complaint about Respondent's treatment of Mrs. K with the Board, which 8 opened an investigation with the Department of Investigations (DOI). Respondent was 9 interviewed by a DOI investigator approximately ten months after Mrs. K's treatment. When 10 questioned by the DOI Investigator Respondent said she did not always document her
11 acupuncture treatments on patients. Respondent did not have any treatment records for Mrs. K.
12 Respondent said she remembered that on March 29, 2012, she inserted the needle into Mrs. K's
13 acupuncture point² SP3.³ Based the Respondent's interview, the acupuncture point she utilized in 14 treating the patient is actually S1, a point commonly used for eye conditions.

15 Respondent said the muscle spasms Mrs. K was experiencing may have caused the needle
16 to go further into the eye, but she did not see any blood in the patient's eye.

17 Respondent acknowledged she asked Mr. K to change the date of Mrs. K's treatment to the 18 day after she received her malpractice insurance.

19 FIRST CAUSE FOR DISCIPLINE

20 (Gross Negligence)

21 15. Respondent is subject to disciplinary action under 4955.2, subsection (a) in that she 22 was grossly negligent in her care and treatment of her patient, Mrs. K. The circumstances are as 23 follows:

24 ² Acupuncture points are locations on the body that are the focus of acupuncture, acupressure, sonopuncture
25 and laser acupuncture treatment. Several hundred acupuncture points are considered to be located along meridians
26 (connected points across the anatomy which affect a specific organ or other part of the body). The Traditional 27 Chinese Medicine (TCM) theory for the selection of such points and their effectiveness is that they work by stimulating the meridian system to bring about relief by rebalancing yin, yang and qi (also spelled "chi" or "ki").
This theory is based on the paradigm of TCM and has no analogue in western medicine.

28 ³ SP3 is an acupuncture point located near the big toe. SP1 is the acupuncture point located directly below the pupil of the eye between the eyeball and the infraorbital ridge.

1 16. The standard of care when treating acupuncture patients requires the acupuncturist to
2 complete an adequate examination of the patient, make a proper diagnosis, and use competent
3 treatment protocols while following the principles, concepts and traditions of Asian medicine. An
4 acupuncturist has the responsibility to ensure that the treatment provided is performed with proper
5 technique and precaution to prevent unintended injury to the patient.

6 17. When providing treatment using an acupuncture point near the eye, the standard of 7 care is for a practitioner to make certain the needle does not cause injury to the eye and
8 surrounding tissues. The location of the acupuncture point near the eye and the surrounding soft
9 tissues require the practitioner to be particularly cautious to prevent injury during the procedure.
10 The initial point location needs to be exact in order to prevent injury.

11 18. The standard of care when utilizing S1 to avoid eye injury requires extra care in 12 choosing the correct angle of the needle insertion, and not inserting the needle too deeply.
13 Improper angle of insertion of the acupuncture needle or excessive depth of insertion can cause
14 the needle to contact the eye.

15 19. The standard of care requires that the practitioner warn the patient to keep the eye still 16 during the treatment in order to prevent any movement of the inserted needle. Patient difficulty in 17 keeping the eye still for a prolonged period may require the practitioner to withdraw the needle
18 earlier than might be done if the needle was inserted in a less delicate point. If the patient
19 complains of pain or discomfort during the procedure the standard of care calls for adjusting the 20 needle insertion, or removing the needle to prevent injury.

21 20. The standard of care also requires the practitioner to prepare adequate and accurate
22 written records at the time of medical treatment.

23 21. Respondent's care and treatment of patient Mrs. K as set forth above includes the 24 following acts and/or omissions which constitute extreme departures from the standard of 25 practice:

26 A. Respondent's choice of the acupuncture point in which to insert the acupuncture
27 needle into Mrs. K was inaccurate.

1 B. Respondent's depth and angle of insertion of the acupuncture needle into Mrs. K's
2 eye was inaccurate.

3 C. Respondent's speed of insertion of the acupuncture needle into Mrs. K's eye was 4 incorrect.

5 D. Respondent's judgment to insert the acupuncture needle into Mrs. K's twitching eye
6 was inadequate.

7 22. Respondent's acts and/or omissions as set forth in paragraphs 15 through 19,
8 inclusive, above, whether proven individually, jointly, or in any combination thereof, constitute 9 gross negligence pursuant to section 4955.2, subdivision (a), of the Code. Therefore cause for 10 discipline exists.

11 SECOND CAUSE FOR DISCIPLINE

12 (Repeated Negligent Acts)

13 23. Respondent is subject to disciplinary action under section 4955.2, subdivision (b) of 14 the Code, in that she has committed repeated acts of negligence in the practice of acupuncture.
15 The circumstances are as follows:

16 24. Complainant refers to, and by reference incorporates herein paragraphs 15 through 17 19, inclusive, above.

18 THIRD CAUSE FOR DISCIPLINE

19 (Altering Records With Fraudulent Intent)

20 25. Respondent is subject to disciplinary action under section 4955.1, subdivisions (b),
21 and(d) of the Code, for committing a fraudulent act. The circumstances are as follows:

22 26. Complainant refers to, and by reference incorporates herein, paragraphs 13 and 14
23 above.

24 FOURTH CAUSE FOR DISCIPLINE

25 (Failing to Maintain Adequate and Accurate Records)

26 27. Respondent is subject to disciplinary action under section 4955.1 subdivision (e) of 27 the Code, and California Code of Regulations, title 16, section 1399.453, for unprofessional
28 conduct. The circumstances are as follows:

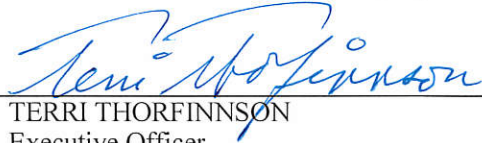

1 28. Complainant refers to, and by reference incorporates herein, paragraphs 13, 14 and 20
2 above.

3 PRAYER

4 WHEREFORE, Complainant requests that a hearing be held on the matters herein alleged,
5 and that following the hearing, the Acupuncture Board issue a decision:

- 6 1. Revoking or suspending Acupuncturist Number AC 14493, issued to Pill Han, L.Ac.
7 2. Ordering her to pay the Acupuncture Board the reasonable costs of the investigation
8 and enforcement of this case, pursuant to Business and Professions Code section 4959;
9 3. If placed on probation, ordering her to pay to the Acupuncture Board the costs of 10 probation monitoring, and
11 4. Taking such other and further action as deemed necessary and proper.
